Dear Sir,

In my younger days, before I entered the military service I helped Mr. Brauwy Cooper, whose Doctor I had been at Guy's Hosp^l, in various matters, & among them, in writing the Life of Sir Astley Cooper his uncle. When that work was in progress Mr. Cooper's neighbour Lord Abinger thought it afforded a good opportunity of publishing the truth about Resurrectionist proceedings, & so getting rid of many erroneous ideas, injurious to the character of members of the medical profession, which had taken possession of the public mind as a consequence of the murder by Burke & Hare, if I recall the names rightly, of an Italian boy for dissection purposes, in Edinburgh.

This led to my seeing various persons in London who had been occupied in resurrectionist proceedings for the supply of bodies to dissecting rooms, & from one of these persons I bought part of a diary he had kept regarding his business.
Of course you know there were not at that time any legalized means of supplying the schools with cadavers for the study of anatomy.

The part of the diary so obtained
- it chiefly consisted of a number of leaves torn out of some M.S. book - remained among papers of mine for some years, & after I had returned from foreign service, & had become appointed to the Army Med School, I discovered it. I then asked my friend W Edcock, who I think was Pres-of the College at the time or at any rate was Member of Council, whether ~~he~~ he thought ^{keep} these stray leaves of a resurrectionist's diary would be worth preservation among the College Archives - He thought they would be, & so I sent them. This is the history of the papers about which you have written to me.

I have not a copy of the life of Sir Astley Cooper at hand to refer to, but in it you will find a reference to myself in connexion with a pleasant tour made with Mr Cooper in Norfolk for the purpose of collecting information regarding the early days of Sir A. Cooper's life, and also you will find in it an account of the London Resurrectionists and sundry extracts from the diary what has since been placed in the College Library.

Believe me to be

Dear Sir,
Yours very truly
Thos. Laingmore

On perusing your letter I observe you ask me if the "Diary" was bound up with some M.S.S. of Sir H. Cooper at the time of its presentation. It was not - it only consisted of the leaves torn out of a book as I have described them throughout Sir

Netley 25th Jan'y 1870

My dear Mr. Lock

When Mr. Mansby Cooper was writing the life of Sir Astley Cooper he put me in communication with one or two men who had at one time been engaged in Resurrectionist proceedings. The object was to get some information, part of which is introduced into one of the chapters of Mr. Cooper's book -

From one of these men I purchased part of a diary he had kept when engaged in "body-lifting", and,

And as it contains references to some of the eminent ones of our profession, & is strongly illustrative of the difficulties under which the study of anatomy was at one time pursued in this country, it may be thought worthy of preservation, from a historical point of view, among the records of the Royal College of Surgeons. Under this impression I place the manuscript at your disposal, very sincerely yours
